Standing with divinity

When the end of the sea meets the sky above
The world is falling apart
When a life has to choose between dark and light
I'll follow my heart along the passage

The dawn has come and sees through my heart
With thorns spread all over Shura road
I pray to the spirit of purity
Walking on the bridge of my fate

Standing with divinity and pride
I have no fear to embrace the whole new world
Standing with divinity and pride
Looking upon all from above
I'm not alone

When the end of the sea meets the sky above
The world is falling apart When a life has to choose between dark and light
I'll follow my heart along the passage

The dawn has come and sees through my heart
With thorns spread all over Shura road
I pray to the spirit of purity
Walking on the bridge of my fate

Standing with divinity and pride
If I'm dreaming
Just set me free Standing with divinity and pride
Find out The truth among the false

What I am looking for Is you hearing my prayers
The existence you forgot Let us make it happen again and again
